

CLAIRE CHEN

PRESIDENT FOR THE ASIA/OCEANIA ZONE

Claire was born in Taiwan, and educated in the United States of America since she was a teenager. Claire is proud of her Chinese heritage.

She can trace her heritage back 24 generations to the Ming Dynasty royal family; Fail (Hu bu shangshü), and particularly Shoshu Tobe (Minister of the Household), the equivalent of today's Minister of Finance. Her ancestors moved to the Republic of Formosa; Taiwan R.O.C in 1947.

In her early life, she was a professional A-list fashion runway model from age 14-23 in Asia and the United States of America while receiving her education at the SFSU and the FIDM.

Today, Claire Chen is honored to be the Representative of Asia Pacific at the Rockefeller Standard Carbon Trust with a mission to promote the Rockefeller Standard Carbon Trust to create partnerships with countries of government and with the largest polluting and harmful companies in the world. Net zero emissions and transformation are global trends and challenges.
